

A black and white photograph of a large, multi-story building with a classical facade. The building features a prominent corner balcony with a dark metal railing. The facade is composed of light-colored stone or brick with rectangular windows and decorative moldings. In the background, a tall, square clock tower with a bell opening is visible. The foreground shows a street with a white vintage car and a dark vintage car parked. A few people are walking on the sidewalk.

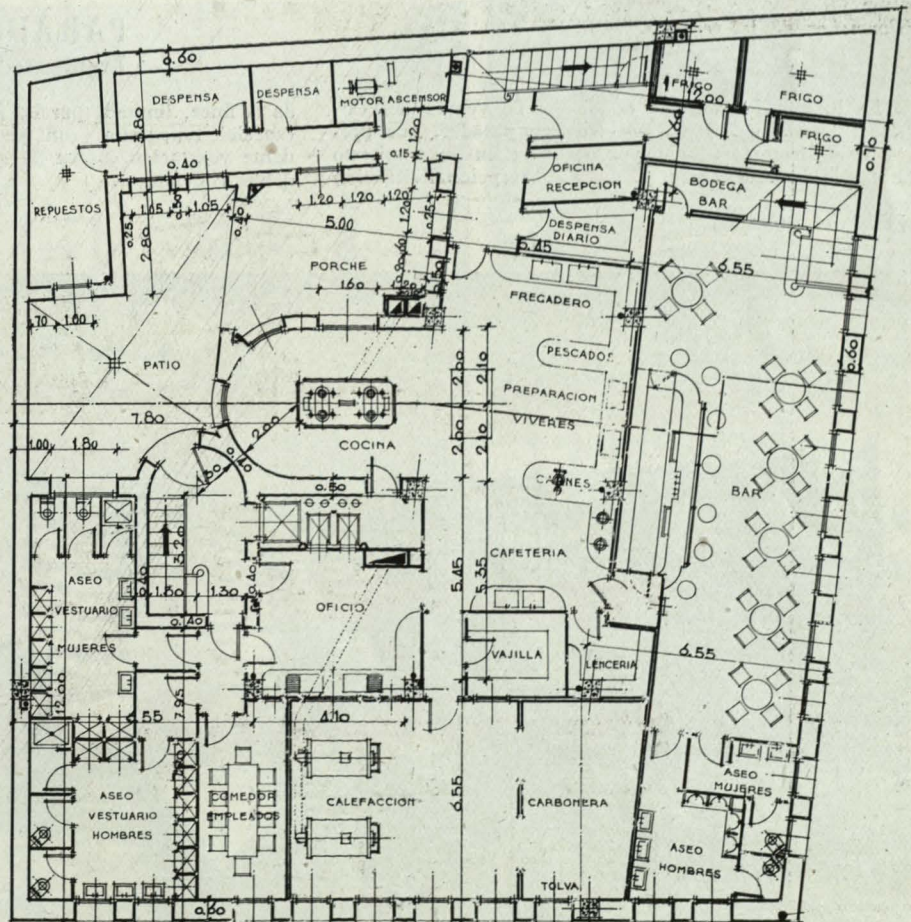

Pormenor de la fachada.

Planta de pisos.

Planta baja.

Planta de semisótano.